MUSE Opens in Suffolk

MUSE: The Meeting Place and restaurant has opened for business at 5860 Harbour View Blvd., Suite A-3 at the Harbour View Station West shopping center, next to the AMC Grand Theatres. This unique culinary establishment was started by restaurateur's Shannon Puglisse, Rob Hegedus and Tony Pino. MUSE represents a place where people can gather, eat, discuss and relax. MUSE is open for private meetings during normal business hours and is open to the public for dinner weekdays at 4:00 pm.

“This concept came about as we realized that many of us try and cram meetings around breakfast, lunch and dinner in restaurants that are usually only designed for ordering and eating food, but not for conducting meetings” said co-owner Tony Pino. “We wanted a place more conducive to capturing the productivity of these meetings.”

“This is an exciting new endeavor that the owners of MUSE are introducing to this area” said Mayor Linda T. Johnson. “With the creativity, experience and dining choices being offered, this is sure to be a welcomed addition to the surrounding business community.”

MUSE offers a wide variety of exquisite dishes such as Thresher Shark and Escargot, among more familiar plates like Beef Tenderloin, She-Crab soup, and a variety of wraps. MUSE also boasts a selection of regional microbrews on tap and a wine list that includes some Wine Spectator Top 100 labels.
