DRINKING WATER WEEK 2012 (MAY 6- MAY 12, 2012)

SUFFOLK, VA (April 20, 2012) The Suffolk Department of Public Utilities will celebrate Drinking Water Week 2012, May 6 through May 12, 2012.

On Tuesday, May 8 from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m., Public Utilities will have the AskHRGreen Trailer in the parking lot at the Kohl's Store, 6253 College Drive, giving away reusable water bottles. These bottles are being used to encourage people to drink tap water over bottled water. Twisted Sister, a cupcake van, will also be on hand with a portion of sales going to the H2O Program. The H2O (Help to Others) Program is provided through the Salvation Army to assist customers in need of assistance with their water bills.

For more than 35 years, the American Water Works Association and its members have celebrated Drinking Water Week – a unique opportunity for both water professionals and the communities they serve to join together to recognize the vital role water plays in our daily lives.
